

PART II

CHAPTER 4

AND THE CROWD GOES WILD

"A great venue does not start at the gate. It starts the moment someone decides to go."

ANCIENT ROME

The Colosseum seats 50,000 — Romans understood that a spectacle binds a civilization together

20TH CENTURY

Mass media, rail lines, and highways turn stadiums and concert halls into destinations at national scale

VIP ERA

Premium suites, tiered ticketing, and hospitality zones become the primary revenue growth lever for venues

TODAY

Mobile-first, frictionless, and personalized — guests expect every touchpoint to be seamless